Kalya Trading is a GST-registered proprietorship engaged in agricultural commodity sourcing and bulk supply, operating from a mandi office in Kota, Rajasthan.

Our buying point is Bhamashah Mandi — one of Asia's largest APMC yards, receiving wheat, garlic, soybean, mustard, coriander and chana in daily arrivals. We buy at lot level, at the point of arrival.

What that changes for a buyer is the length of the chain. Most bulk agricultural supply passes through an aggregator and one or more traders before it reaches a processing unit. Each layer adds cost and removes visibility of the lot.

We sit at the first point in that chain, which is why we can aggregate against a running requirement rather than push a fixed lot, and why we can put a sample in front of you before you commit to anything.

WHY THE BELT MATTERS

Kota sits between Baran and Bundi, both among Rajasthan's top five wheat-producing districts. The same region is a principal soybean belt, and Rajasthan leads India in mustard production. Kota and Ramganjmandi together form one of the country's largest coriander markets. Six of our eight lines come from the ground around our own office.

Eight lines, six of them from our own belt.

Grade, moisture and cleaning standards vary by lot and season. We confirm them against your specific lot on the written quotation rather than publishing figures we cannot hold.

COMMODITY	ORIGIN	WHO BUYS IT
Wheat	Baran & Bundi belt, Rajasthan	Roller flour mills, atta units, suji and maida processors, biscuit and bakery manufacturers
Garlic	Hadoti belt around Kota	Dehydration processors, spice grinders, pickle units, paste and ready-to-cook manufacturers
Soybean	Kota belt, Rajasthan	Solvent extraction plants, oil mills, soya food manufacturers, feed compounders
Mustard seed	Kota and Hadoti districts	Kachi ghani oil mills, expellers, extraction plants, condiment manufacturers
Coriander	Kota and Ramganjmandi	Spice grinders, masala manufacturers, spice exporters, food ingredient companies
Chana	Hadoti belt around Kota	Dal mills, besan units, pulse processors, snack and namkeen manufacturers
Basmati rice	Northern basmati belt, trade sourced	Rice wholesalers, HORECA distributors, institutional buyers
Pulses & grains	Kota mandi arrivals	Dal mills, pulse processors, wholesale traders

Four steps, and we own all four.

01 Assess

We look at arrivals at Bhamashah Mandi daily and assess lots against what our buyers actually need — not against a generic grade sheet.

02 Aggregate

We buy at lot level and build to your requirement. Volume is set by your plant, not by a fixed pack we are trying to move.

03 Grade & pack

Cleaning, sorting and grading to the standard agreed for your lot. Standard packing is 50kg PP or jute, or the format you specify.

04 Dispatch

Transport arranged to your unit with clear documentation and the freight basis stated on the quote.

WHAT WE WILL NOT DO

We do not quote a price, a minimum order or a dispatch timeline before we have seen your requirement and the lot it would come from. A number given early is a number a buyer holds you to later, and we would rather be the supplier that gets it right than the one that quotes fastest.

WORKING WITH US

What to send us.

Five things let us answer you properly on the first reply.

Commodity	Which line, and the variety or type if it matters to your process
Volume	Monthly or per-consignment, and whether it is a standing requirement
Specification	The parameters you buy against — moisture, size, cleanliness, whatever governs
Delivery location	City and state, and whether you want it ex-mandi or delivered
Packing	50kg PP or jute, or the format your unit handles

THEN

We confirm plainly whether we can service it. If we can, you get a written quotation against your specification, and a sample whenever you want to judge the material yourself rather than take our word for it.

Send us your requirement.
